BOULDER COUNTY BAR FOUNDATION

The Boulder County Bar Foundation was established in 1978 as the granting arm of the Boulder County Bar Association. The membership annual dues income allows the corpus to grow and fund local organizations that provide legal education, legal services to the poor and access to justice. The grant applications are due in September and the Trustees make funding decisions in October.

Fellows of the Foundation are members of the Boulder County Bar Association. The Foundation is governed by a nine-member Board of Trustees who are elected by the Foundation membership at the annual dinner. Each Trustee serves a three year term. The Board of Trustees for 2013-2014 are Sonny Flowers, Karl Kumli, Seth Benezra, Bob Lanham, David Archuleta, Anton Dworak, Joan Norman, Ruth Becker, Rich Irvin and Christine Hylbert, Executive Director.

Current members of the Boulder County Bar who have been active in bar activities and/or are leaders in bar endeavors are invited to become Fellows of the Boulder County Bar Foundation. New Fellows are often recommended by their colleagues and are honored at the March annual dinner.

Each new member pledges to contribute a minimum of $150 annually for ten years, which is tax deductible. A Bar Fellow who has completed the ten-year commitment of $1500 becomes an Honorary Life Member of the Foundation. Honorary Life Members who maintain their support are recognized as Sustaining Life Members. Those Life Members who continue to support the Foundation become a Sustaining Life Member. Fellows who donate $2500 to $5000 will become Life Benefactor Fellows and those who give $10,000 will become Life Leadership Fellows.

The 2013-2014 Board of Trustees adopted the goal of substantially enhancing the Foundation's granting capabilities. Last year the Trustees awarded grants totalling $26,000. The Trustees are confident that by supporting the legal efforts of these organizations and law related projects, our public image will increase as we help provide public legal services to Boulder County.

Thank you to our current Fellow members for paying your dues and those who continue on after the ten-year commitment. Please consider joining the Foundation and helping the legal service projects continue.

PRESIDENT'S PAGE

By Judson Hite

As my tenure closes, I can say it's been a great ride... certainly not hell in a bucket. Taking the helm of this ship, ever so temporarily, has been hugely uncomplicated: the staff and "structure" allow the Bar to run largely on autopilot.

We might talk about what happened in the past year, or what didn't, or milestones that were marked (the most significant being that the Boulder Bar Board for the first time is comprised of a majority of the smarter sex). However, it is more fitting to discuss the bar's structure, based on voluntary participation, and the reasons why you should become involved in your local bar association. I became involved entirely by happenstance, but a determination to participate would also be entirely appropriate.

The first of reasons to become involved is professional obligation. There is an innate duty (ok, stirring?) to make the practice of law better from the ground up. If nothing more, one should know and become known to the community. We should also share accumulated experience and expertise - raise the tide that floats all boats. And although the Boulder Bar maintains an apolitical front, there are policies and agendas that benefit from being pushed by a multitude of differing views. Sharing yours through participation in a local bar fills the sails.

Next is leadership. The idea that some lead and others follow may be dicta. You may be born with or without charisma, but that trait does not define leadership. Leadership is learned. Absent dictatorial rule, coalitions must be built, solutions solicited, considered, and then implemented. To govern effectively, a degree of stifling selflessness has to be found, coupled with advocacy, imagining a better good. Mixing my metaphors: a controlled burn, versus scorched earth, allows for further harvest. And like agronomy (or boating), leadership is a craft to be honed.

There is also reward. There is fulfillment in having served, to strive selflessly pursuing an agenda that advances interests you deem relevant. Through that effort, some degree of do-gooder's delight is sure to pique our misanthropic selves. The mirror might become more satisfying on mornings you are able to reflect that you made a difference.

Mostly though, you improve. You are compelled to become a leader, to hone that craft. Your principles become organized, an agenda set, a course charted, and necessary tacks made to keep the sails trimmed. You have to seek out, confront, and develop compassion for alternative views. Those are all skills worth learning.

And then you retire. The helm turned over. New ideas and inspirations, coalitions and imagination need to steer the ship. And though you may have become at least proficient at the wheel, it keeps turning ... bound to cover just a little more ground. Retirement should not be to fade away, but rather to take the learned skills to another venue and hopefully help it succeed. Likewise, don't abandon the bar either; keep engaged on an emeritus status through its many functions and associated organizations.

Thank you for the experience.
